

FIRE DESTROYS LITTLESTOWN GARAGE, SHED

Fire early this morning destroyed a large frame storage shed of the Littlestown Hardware and Foundry Co. in Littlestown, and a nearby frame two-car garage owned by Richard K. Yingling. Heat from the fire caused considerable additional damage to the Yingling home by breaking windows and peeling paint from the rear of the house.

The storage shed contained thousands of cardboard boxes stored there for eventual use by the foundry company.

Mrs. Richard K. Yingling said she was awakened about 2:40 o'clock this morning. "I looked out the window and could see flames flying from the foundry storage shed," she said. She awakened her husband and 18-year-old son, Ronald Yingling.

REMOVE TWO CARS

While the two men rushed to the garage at the rear of the Yingling home, which was about two feet from the blazing storage shed Mrs. Yingling called the Littlestown Fire Department.

Mr. Yingling and his son removed their two cars from the garage as the fire burst through one wall of the garage. Mrs. Yingling said a winter tire and wheel, "a lot of tools, electric drill, lumber and other articles in the garage were ruined by the fire, along with the garage itself."

Littlestown's Alpha Fire Co., responding to the call, found Yingling in the rear yard at his home using a garden hose to wet down the rear of the Yingling home. The heat from the blazing garage and shed at that time was peeling paint from the Yingling house and several windows cracked from the heat. Mrs. Yingling said she was seeking to remove clothing from the house "until I heard the windows crack and then I thought I better get out of here."

Littlestown firemen after bringing the blaze under control remained on the scene until late this morning because of the smoldering thousands of cardboard boxes.

Breaks 50 In 9 To See Series

One of the distinguished fans at today's third world series baseball game is a young man who had to "earn his way" on the golf course.

Dwight David Eisenhower, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, R. D., and grandson of President and Mrs. Eisenhower, is attending the game with W. A. Jones, chairman of the board of Cities Service Corp.

This is how it came about. David's mother, Mrs. Barbara Eisenhower, promised him that if he "broke" 50 on the nine-hole Gettysburg Country Club golf course she would let him attend a world series game. David did just that, several months ago. So early this morning David left for New York where he joined Mr. Jones and the two went to the ball game.

While David is the apple of his grandfather's eye, and works hard at being a good golfer because his grandfather is, his first athletic love is baseball.

TWO MORE MEN ENDORSE 1960 CHEST DRIVE

Dr. Wilbur E. Tilberg, retired dean of Gettysburg College, and Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, pastor of the United Church of Christ, today added their endorsement of the Community Chest drive to reach the $28,300 goal.

Dr. Tilberg said: "Again the Gettysburg Community Chest is appealing to the citizens of Gettysburg for financial support of its seven community agencies. The goal is $28,300. Every cent and more is needed if these organizations are to function energetically and efficiently."

"How much shall I contribute? The Community Chest was organized for the purpose of conducting one campaign instead of seven for the support of these agencies. Every individual should therefore decide how much he would normally give to each agency if directly approached, and then contribute that total to the Community Chest. Otherwise the Chest defeats its own purpose."

"Note the emphasis on youth. Every one of these agencies is directly or indirectly concerned with youth programs — programs that build character, train for citizenship, provide health and recreational facilities, make available good books and develop skills in many areas. Programs of this type are of major importance in this day and age if our youth are to develop their physical bodies, their minds, their spiritual natures, and their personalities in the highest and best sense of the term. Only in this way will they be prepared to face the future challenge of intelligence."

HOLD YOUTH HERE

A 15-year-old Orlando, Fla., youth was taken into custody by state police and Cumberland Twp. Policeman Bernard V. Miller Sr. Friday night at the Truck Stop Restaurant along the Emmitsburg Rd. The father of the youth had notified state police to be on the lookout for the youth who was believed to be in this vicinity. He was held pending arrival of the father.

Nixon And Kennedy Swing Hard In Second TV Debate But Remain Miles Apart

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy fought a bristling television battle Friday night that left them miles apart on most campaign issues.

With millions of Americans looking on and listening in, the unsmiling presidential nominees found common ground on only a few topics.

Neither would go into any summit conference without prior diplomatic spadework and some tangible assurance that Soviet Premier Khrushchev meant to negotiate and not just to grind out propaganda.

If recession threatened, both would consider tax cuts to pump new life into the economy.

Each sees difficult times ahead, with spending for defense, economic assistance and other programs rising.

MANY DISAGREEMENTS

But from Cuba to Formosa Kennedy and Nixon disagreed on international affairs. They threw sharp remarks at each other about civil rights, they whacked at each other about the nation's position in the cold war. They glared over the depressed areas problems and economic conditions generally.

AUXILIARY TO BUY $10,000 SONIC CLEANER

A $10,000 ultra sonic cleaner will be purchased by the Annie M. Warner Hospital Auxiliary as another contribution to the new wing of the hospital, it was announced by Mrs. James Allison, president of the auxiliary.

The cleaner, according to administrator Walter B. Dillon, is expected to be delivered sometime next spring when the surgical wing at the hospital is completed.

The new piece of equipment will use high frequency sound waves, converted by a generator into electrical impulses of 18,000 to 20,000 cycles per second. This ultrasonic energy is fed to a magnetostrictive transducer which expands and contracts these impulses at the rate of 18,000 to 20,000 times per second, thus transforming them into physical energy.

This physical energy is introduced into a liquid bath in the form of sound waves, of such high frequency that the human ear cannot detect them. They pass through the water like ripples on a pond, vibrating more than 18,000 times per second.

IMPLODES OR COLLAPSES

As the waves strike against the microscopic nuclei present in all liquids, it implodes or collapses inwardly for a fraction of an instant. The infinitely small pin point of space formerly occupied by the nucleus is suddenly vacated, creating cavitations or vacuums in the liquid which have been measured up to 4,500 pounds per square inch.

Thus, the terrific pulling created by these cavitations attacks the edges of the soil on the instruments like a million vacuum cleaners, working into the smallest areas possible. All this activity takes place with such outward calm that one can barely see or

Takes Part In Army Maneuvers Abroad

Pfc. John C. Bretzman, son of Charles W. Bretzman, Bendersville, recently participated with other personnel from the 8th Division's 26th Infantry in Exercise Light Foot in Germany.

The two-day exercise, designed to determine unit efficiency, featured a 50-mile road march.

Bretzman, a radio operator in the infantry's headquarters company in Baumholder, entered the Army in October 1959 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

The 24-year-old soldier was graduated from Biglerville High School in 1955 and was employed by the C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville, before entering the Army.

$550 Collision At Two Taverns Friday

Damage totaled $550 but no one was reported injured when two cars collided Friday at Two Taverns on the Littlestown Rd.

State police said Sylvester Collins, 44, Gettysburg R. 3, was driving south and attempted a left turn. James S. Flynn, 19, Littlestown R. 2, was headed north and his car struck the side of the Collins auto, according to police. Damage was $375 to the Flynn car and $175 to Collins' vehicle.

Police said Flynn told he saw the left turn signal on the Collins car operating but thought Collins was going to stop. When the Collins car continued to turn the Flynn vehicle struck its side.

TELLS ADAMS TEACHERS TO UPDATE WORK

Attention to the whole world in the curriculum of the schools was urged by Dr. Leonard S. Kenworthy, of Brooklyn College, as he spoke to Adams and Cumberland County teachers during Friday morning's general session of the two-county teachers' institute at Cumberland Valley High School.

He told teachers that they should prepare pupils for "a world of new nations, regional federations and limited world government." Teaching, he said, will have to be updated to the facts of the modern world.

"Most of our world neighbors live in Asia," Kenworthy said. "This is where the world lives; this is where the world literature is." he asked.

WESTERN EUROPE

He recalled that when he went to school he learned the languages and culture of Western Europe. "That was sufficient in that day, but not today."

Kenworthy pointed out that most of the world's population is non-white, also that most of the world's people are non-Christian. These people are not likely to become Christians, he said. To them, he added, Christianity represents three things: colonialism, white supremacy and the atom bomb.

"We're going to have to learn about other religions. You don't have to be a Buddhist but you should learn to understand Buddhism."

Kenworthy also said that pupils are "going to have to learn to live as a white minority in the world. He urged teaching aimed at understanding other peoples and their views and conditions.

SMELL OF POVERTY

He contrasted the American average income of $2,600 a year per capita as compared to the average for two-thirds of the world which is $80. He said that in the richest country in Africa, except for the Union of South Africa, the average is $150.

One of the top problems of the world, he said, is not the atom bomb but decent, clean water at village wells. He told of recording voices and sounds as he traveled with a tape recorder. But he said he had no smell recorder and he thought this was unfortunate. "You have to smell poverty to know what it is," he said.

For the future, Kenworthy said, the world has three courses: co-existence, co-existence and cooperation. He doubted if the last could be brought about in a long time. Commenting on the first, he quipped that World War III has been defined as the time when "all people are cremated equal."

PROBE PREJUDICES

To achieve the teaching view he urged, Kenworthy told the teachers they will have to develop a "planetary perspective" and "probe some of your own prejudices."

Devotions and musical entertainment at the morning's session were by pupils in the Upper Adams Schools, C. P. Keefer, Adams County superintendent of schools, presided.

PAY FINE AND COSTS

Carl E. Fuhrman, Manchester, Md., R. 1, was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder early this morning for failing to come to a complete stop at the red blinker light at Chambersburg St. and Buford Ave. The charge was filed by the borough police.

HIGHLIGHTS IN LIVES OF DAR WOMEN CITED

Highlights in the lives of the four women "whose patriotic foresight made possible the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution" were related by Mrs. Theodore E. Zoller, central director, at the meeting of the DAR Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Sheely, Broadway.

"Eugenia Washington, one of the courageous women who helped to unite women of the North and South in the cause of preserving their heritage, worked unceasingly," she said, "for the DAR, from the time of its organization until the time of her death, 1900." Miss Washington was assigned National 1 and was a charter member of the Dolly Madison Chapter in Washington, D. C. "Her Ideals were high and she would not compromise on matters of principle," Mrs. Zoller said. She was born in West Virginia and is buried on the shores of the Rappahannock.

"Mary Desha, born in Kentucky, suggested the design for the official seal of the society, the day after the society's organization. She was assigned National 3, and was the youngest of the founders. A member of the Katherine Montgomery Chapter, she had three men listed on the application paper who served their country and Marguerite Briarleigh, mother of Col. John Montgomery. During the Spanish-American War, Miss Desha was the assistant to the director of the DAR Hospital Corps and also spent many hours working for the DAR Hospital service. Miss Desha had absolute devotion to the constitution and bylaws of the society regardless of the fact that her devotion at times conflicted with her desires. She died of a heart attack in Washington, D. C. and is buried in Kentucky."

ELLEN H. WALWORTH

"Ellen Hardin Walworth, or Mrs. Mansfield Tracey Walworth, born and reared in Kentucky and trained in law, was the author of the 'Battle of Saratoga' and the first editor of the DAR magazine, established in 1892. She was assigned National 5, and was the founder who suggested the idea of having the portrait of the first

UNICEF TRICK OR TREAT PLAN BEING SET UP

The Adams County committee for the United Nations Children's Fund today announced plans for the annual "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" campaign in which the committee seeks the support of the county's children and adults to raise funds for needy children everywhere.

Mrs. Robert A. Codori, E. Broadway, general chairman for the "Trick or Treat" campaign in the county, announced that Douglas Houston and Mrs. Oren H. Wilson have been named as an educational committee to acquaint citizens of the county in the work of the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund program.

At the same time district chairmen have been named for the schools to acquaint the children with the "Trick or Treat" program and seek their cooperation in turning their traditional "trick or treating" at Halloween into a means of raising funds for the world's children.

FILMS AVAILABLE

Mrs. Codori said Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Houston will have films available for showing to any group, after November 15, on the need, value and constructive work done by UNICEF funds.

Last year numerous children throughout the county took part in the "Trick or Treat" program and raised several hundred dollars for the international fund. Throughout the U. S. approximately 2,000,000 youngsters took part in the program. Each carries an official milk carton for UNICEF and asks adults to make a donation for UNICEF in lieu of the traditional candy. It was found that the youngster usually got both candy and the donation.

Mrs. Codori noted that the president general, Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, painted and placed in the White House. She is buried in Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

"Mrs. Mary Smith Lockwood, born in New York, and the oldest of the DAR founders, was active as a writer and promoter of work of Women's Clubs and founder of the famous Travel Club and the president of the Women's Press Club. She wrote the letter, which was published in July 1890 in the Washington Post in protest of the action by the Sons of the American Revolution, when they would not permit any auxiliary to be formed. It was in her apartment the National Society of the DAR was organized. She was one of 18 who signed the original list of members and to her was assigned National 27. A member of the Mary Washington Chapter, Washington, D. C., she was the only founder buried in the city in which the society was organized."

Mrs. Zoller also told of Caroline Lavina Scott, better known as Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, who was elected first president general of the society. She was instrumental in starting the campaign toward building Continental Hall and was assigned National 7. While she was in office the blue and white of Washington's staff were chosen for the society's colors, and the insignia was adopted, and the society incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia.

In a speech before delegates to the convention of the Pennsylvania Firemen's Association, the governor said firemen "must dramatize to the public the need to eliminate the horrible spectre of fire which hangs over our homes, over every place of business and over every life."

The project will carry flood waters of Jack's Run past Greensburg, South Greensburg, South-west Greensburg and Hempfield Twp.

Three Jailed For Disorderly Conduct

Three young men were placed in the Adams County jail on failure to pay fines on disorderly conduct charges Friday night.

The three were Leon G. Little, 26, Hanover; Carl F. Groft, 21, McSherrystown, and Elvin L. Weaver, 24, Hanover, all of whom were directed to pay $10 fines and costs on disorderly conduct charges before Justice of the Peace John O. Whitman, Cumberland Twp., and then were placed in jail on 30-day sentences when they were unable to pay the fines and costs.

Justice Whitman said the three were arrested by Cumberland Twp. Policeman Bernard V. Miller Sr. Justice Whitman said the disorderly conduct began when Groft and Weaver got into a fist fight. According to the justice, the first fight was accidental in that one of the men thought he was fighting someone else. Little, according to the justice, was released only about a week ago from prison on another charge, and was allegedly using profane language in a loud voice.

The justice said Little and Weaver pleaded guilty to the charges against them while Groft was found guilty following a hearing.

Davis estimated the damage at about $150. A witness to the accident, who failed to obtain the license number, said the driver was about 20 years old, was tall and had dark wavy hair.

Steelworkers Union Head Accused Of Misusing Funds

PITTSBURGH (AP) — President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers union has been accused of using USW funds for his own entertainment.

Donald C. Rarick, leader of a rebel group within the union, made the charge Friday in a petition to U.S. District Court for permission to examine USW financial records.

Rarick said the USW president had a good time at union expense before, during and after the 116-day nationwide steel strike of 1959-1960.

McDonald's 1959 expenses were much greater than the $14,667 he reported, Rarick charged.

He claimed McDonald ran up entertainment bills in New York and other cities in 1959, all of which were paid by the international union treasury.

VACATION FOR FAMILY

Rarick also charged the union paid for trips, vacations and other forms of entertainment for McDonald's family and a few close associates as well as their wives.

A spokesman for McDonald's administration denied Rarick's accusations.

"There is absolutely no substance to the charges," he said. He added that Rarick's petition is "similar to the series of suits brought previously, all of which were either thrown out of court or never came to trial."

According to Rarick, much of the $4,009,824 listed by the union as being spent for educational and publicity expenses in 1959 was used for other reasons.

He said much of the money went into the "making of movies by a firm headed by a personal friend of Mr. McDonald and the production of television headed by the same firm."

The union president also maintains suites in hotels in New York, Miami and Washington, D.C., Rarick charged.

Rarick said the union has paid $250,000 to date to singer Phil Regan for services as a "union vocalist." McDonald authorized the payment of Regan's expenses out of the union treasury from time to time, added Rarick.

JOHNSTOWN'S GRID STREAK IS SMASHED

By FRED B. WALTERS
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Underrated Redstone put an end to the state's longest high school football winning string Friday night when it held highly regarded Johnstown to a 14-14 tie.

The tie knocked both clubs out of the WPIAL-AA race, leaving leaving Beaver Falls, Monessen, Mount Lebanon and Clairton as the leading candidates in that conference.

Easton, meanwhile, reaped a big harvest for Lehigh Valley prestige when it scored an impressive 21-6 victory over Altoona. Although the Mountain Lions were not having one of their best seasons, they still had been making a creditable showing against the better teams from the western end of the state.

Kingston Catholic was dropped off the list of long-run unbeaten by West Pittston, 9-7.

In other key games: POTTSVILLE BEATS SHAMOKIN

Pottsville struggled to a 12-0 victory over Shamokin; Danville ran roughshod over Jersey Shore, 38-18; Lock Haven remained unbeaten with a 26-7 triumph over Huntingdon; Chief Logan whipped Selinsgrove, 31-0; Nesheim ran away from Bristol, 46-0; Scott Twp. overwhelmed German Twp., 46-6 Erie Academy upset Erie Prep, 13-0; Har-Brack knocked McKeesport out of the WPIAL-AA race, 26-20; DuBois walloped Northern Cambria, 48-9.

With Johnstown's string snapped by Wyoimissing of Berks County stepped to the head of the rapidly diminishing list of long-run winning teams. It has won 16 straight. Next in line is Lancaster with 14. Johnstown had won 25 straight.

Wyoimissing plays a traditional game with West Reading and Lancaster host Harrisburg Penn today.

Today's action also includes Erie East vs. Erie Strong Vincent, Sayre at Athens, Harrisburg McDewitt at Harrisburg Harris, Hazleton at Berwick.

Despite Redstone's fine record of 3-1 against top opposition, Johnstown Trojans had been a distinct favorite in the game at Redstone.

But, while the Trojans were bowing out of the WPIAL-AA picture Mount Lebanon shocked previously unbeaten (in the conference) Washington, 48-14; Beaver bowing out of the WPIAL-AA picture, Mount Lebanon shocked previously unbeaten (in the conference) Washington, 48-14; Beaver Falls dropped Butler out of the race, 26-6; Monessen beat Brownsville, 18-6, and Clairton — which plays Monessen next Friday, downed Donora, 19-0.

Youth, 14, Admits Knifing Three Relatives To Death

By TOM DYGDAR

ASHLAND, Ala. (AP) — Raymond Eugene Brown, 14, was arrested at school Friday charged with the knife slaying of his aunt, grandmother and great-grandmother.

Circuit Solicitor Frank Head said the motive was robbery. He said the boy admitted the slayings and would be charged with first degree murder.

The boy lived with his mother, father and two brothers about 125 yards from the rural house where the three bodies were found last Sunday.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brown, were hospitalized Friday night for treatment of shock.

WON'T DISCUSS EVIDENCE

Police refused to discuss evidence that led them to young Brown. Floyd Mann, state public safety director, said physical evidence found at the scene was linked with the boy in an FBI laboratory examination.

Head, Mann and Sheriff Paul G. Levie gave this account of the boy's oral statement to officers:

He planned last Saturday afternoon to go looking for money in the house where his grandmother, Ethel Ogle, 63, and his invalid great-grandmother, Everlena Ogle, 82, lived.

He got out of bed about midnight, dressed and walked barefooted to the unlocked house next door.

STABBED 123 TIMES

Inside, in the darkness, he was surprised by Mrs. John D. Martin, 31, his aunt, who was visiting overnight.

The wild stabbing and slashing with a 10-inch butcher knife followed. Mrs. Martin was stabbed 123 times. The others were cut repeatedly.

On the way out, the youth turned on a light in the kitchen, washed blood from his hands and left. Outside, he stripped off the bloody clothing, and threw it in a thicket. Then he went home nude and returned to the bed he shared with a brother, who remained asleep.

SEEK STOLEN CHARGES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia police were searching today for 400 magnesium charges which were stolen from a construction job Friday.

Each charge is capable of inflicting serious injury. Police said parents should warn their children about playing with the charges if they are found. A sharp blow can ignite the charge.

They are normally used for fusing and welding pipe.

Firm Is Ordered To Quit Business

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — U. S. District Court has ordered a Philadelphia frozen food firm to quit business within 30 days.

Distribution of contaminated food processed by the company prompted the order.

Friday Judge Thomas M. Madden warned Herman M. Elgart, operator of the Heat & Serve Co. to comply with the quit business order or face a stiff sentence.

Elgart was previously placed on probation for processing contaminated food at a Pittman, N. J., PLANT. That plant was later closed.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority Friday set Nov. 9 for bidding on a new horticultural research building at the Pennsylvania State University. It will provide facilities for machinery repair and storage, seed cleaning and storage, and agriculture research.

The association has replied that no payment can be made for at least 60 days after a proof of loss has been filed. And it adds no payment can be made if an umpire cannot establish an amount.

ESPANOLA, Ont. (AP) — "It kept circling the house and each time would get closer, even after the dog had bitten it."

Mrs. Jean Morley told how she shot a 400-pound black bear outside her cabin at Clear Lake near here.

She heard her dog barking and opened the door to find a bear within 10 feet.

"I immediately grabbed a .308 Winchester and fired two shots," she said.

The animal crawled off into the woods and was found later with two bullets in the neck.

CORBIN, Ky. (AP)—Today is a day of memories for Robert A. Early. It's his 111th birthday.

"I remember the taste of good tobacco in a good corn cob pipe. The fun I had keeping a diary. The joy in working with your hands," he said.

But age has written the end to the days when he smoked his pipe "from the time I got up until I went to bed" and fading eyesight has added the last chapter to his diary.

DO IT YOURSELF!
Too many workers tease their jobs along. They need to get the thing done. It is discouraging to leave loose ends and the job unfinished.
Get the important thing done, and then pass on.
All great executives go through this process, for it means advancement and satisfaction in feeling that the big and important thing is finished... ready for the next move.

Ragged edges show and are significant of a man's mind and way of life. Genuine workers, with an objective ahead, keep advancing and are forever measuring their accomplishments. They say to themselves: "Get the thing done. I won't let George do it."
Do it yourself! You will then swell with pride over your decisions and self-reliance. Tackle the big jobs and get them finished; then go on to the next and get that one finished.

There is always progress where there is the will to back it up. I like the sentence in Burton's "Kasidah" where it says: "From none but self expect applause."

WHY MOTHER WORRIES

These are troublous days for mother,
Every day the papers she
Scans to get a word of brother,
Searching through them anxiously.

Every morning mother tells us
That she had a dreadful dream;
Only worry now is mother's,
Willie's on the football team.

Ever since he's been in college,
Mother's had no peace at all,
All the time she's dreading something
Fearful Willie will befall.

When she hears the doorbell ringing,
Off she gives a frightened scream,
Thinking it is news of Willie,
Who is on the football team.

Never were such anxious moments,
Never such suspense, I'm sure,
As we know at home this autumn,
It is awful to endure.

Mother's growing pessimistic,
Life to her has turned its seam;
She is sure the worst will happen,
Willie's on the football team.

SHORT SKIRTS BAN 96 PUPILS

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Short skirts have resulted in the suspension of 96 pupils at a suburban high school—girls who wore the garments and boys who joined them in a sit-down strike to gain school approval for them.

Principal William N. Craley on Wednesday told pupils of the Central Union High School that he felt certain the skirts were indecent.

The skirts in question had hemlines above the knee. Some were of the so-called "kiltie style," several inches above the knee.

Friday, the 96 pupils refused to leave the school cafeteria. One co-ed said, "We felt that if we sat down they would give us a reasonable explanation. We wouldn't object if we knew and understood what was going on. Some girls do wear their skirts too short. We just wanted to talk it over."

Richard E. Walters, assistant principal of the 1,377-student school, immediately suspended the strikers. Craley said none of the strikers would be reinstated until each student, accompanied by his or her parent, comes to the school to talk things over.

Alan Eck of Northern Illinois University caught five touchdown passes for 108 yards in NIU's opener against North Central.

spoke, blinking his eyes as he stores up ammunition for an often caustic reply as his rival spoke.

The vice president, whose picture left some of his supporters wincing in the first debate, showed up much better in this second effort. Kennedy appeared a little more relaxed than his rival.

Nixon fielded the first question and started off the "don't agree" note that held throughout most of the crossfire of exchanges.

CUBA "NOT LOST"

He didn't agree, he said, with Kennedy's statement as related by a questioner that the Eisenhower administration should take the responsibility for the "loss" of Cuba. He said he doesn't believe Cuba is lost. He said there isn't any question that the people there who want to be free "are going to be supported and that they will attain their freedom."

But he wanted to make one thing clear, Nixon said: "There isn't any question but that we will defend our rights there."

Kennedy replied tartly he never said Cuba was lost but only that "today Cuba is lost to freedom."

Accusing Nixon of having praised the competence and stability of the Batista dictatorship in 1955, he added: "I hope some day it (Cuba) will rise, but I don't think it will rise if we continue the same policy toward Cuba that we did in recent years, and in fact toward all Latin America."

CLASH OVER QUEMOY

The candidates clashed just as acridly over the defense of Formosa, held by the Chinese Nationalists. Kennedy said the islands of Quemoy and Matsu, off the coast of China, had been called indefensible in 1958 by Christian A. Herter, then undersecretary of state, as well as by military leaders.

"I think it is unwise to take the chance of being dragged into a war which may lead to a world war over two islands which are not strategically defensible, which are not, according to their testimony, essential to the defense of Formosa," he said.

Nixon fired back that he completely disagreed with Kennedy.

"PRINCIPLE INVOLVED"

"Now, I think as far as Quemoy and Matsu are concerned that the question is not the two little pieces of real estate," the vice president said. "They are unimportant. It isn't the few people who live on them. They are not too important. It is the principle involved."

He said that if the United States forced its Nationalist allies off the islands, a chain reaction might result.

"In my opinion," he said, "this is the same kind of woolly thinking that led to disaster for America in Korea. I am against it. I would never tolerate it as president of the United States, and I will hope that Sen. Kennedy will change his mind if he should be elected."

CHARGES DISTORTION

A question about the U2 spy plane incident brought from Kennedy the charge that Nixon had "distorted" a statement the Democratic nominee made last May that it might have been wise for President Eisenhower to express regrets to Khrushchev if that would have saved the summit conference.

Kennedy said the United States had expressed regrets to Cuba's Fidel Castro last winter, to the Soviets for a flight over their country in 1958 and to East Germany for another flight. He said the Soviets had expressed regrets over a 1953 Bering Sea incident and the Chinese Communists over a 1956 plane incident.

CITES "REGRETS"

He said that "rather than that lie we told" about the U2's being a weather plane, "it would have been far better for us to have followed the common diplomatic procedure of expressing regrets and then try to move on."

Nixon replied that Eisenhower was doing right in keeping in operation intelligence sources. He said Khrushchev intended to wreck the summit conference in any event.

"I don't intend to see to it that the United States is ever in a position where, while we are negotiating with the Soviet Union, that we discontinue our intelligence effort," Nixon replied.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

FRONTIER WARFARE

After the lapse of more than a hundred years it is almost impossible to choose between the good and the bad in the lives and careers of the Girty brothers. It must be admitted that they were known, during their lifetime, as the "scourge of the frontier" but it would be humanly impossible for them to have committed all the atrocious, bloodthirsty deeds attributed to them. The research historian of today desires nothing more than to "paint a true picture" — he or she has no desire to "apply a coat of whitewash." This being the case the data on the Girtys, as contained in this column, is as accurate as careful research can make it — but even after the most careful sifting of facts it may be slightly inaccurate.

After General Anthony Wayne defeated the western tribes at the Battle of Fallen Timbers, in August, 1794, Simon Girty, who had every reason to fear retribution by the whites, removed to Canada, where he settled on a small farm, near Malden, on the Detroit River. The British gave him a pension "for services rendered" and he managed to live, more or less at peace with himself and the

Bill Bowers Runs Wild As Littlestown Wallops York Central 26 To 7 On Friday

Unbeaten Littlestown, sparked by the running of Bill Bowers who scored three times and set up another touchdown, crushed York Central 26-7 Friday evening at Littlestown to strengthen its grip on first place in the Laurel Conference.

Bowers scored on runs of 68 and 88 yards, plunged over from the one and ran 63 yards to set up the Bolts' fourth tally.

After being held scoreless in the opening period, the Thunderbolts took command with a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter.

The Bolts had the ball on their own 32-yard line when Bowers got off on his first TD scamper, receiving a good block from Ted Bortner as he reached the secondary after shooting through the right side of the line, and raced 66 yards to the end zone.

EXCHANGE FUMBLES

An exchange of fumbles took place later in the period with Frank Basehoar recovering the second fumble for Littlestown on the Central 37. In five plays the Bolts struck pay dirt again as Bowers scampered 27 yards to eat up most of the ground. Bowers then plunged over from the one and followed with another plunge for the point.

On the second half kickoff Littlestown was set back to its seven on a clipping penalty but it took just three plays for the Bolts to score again. After two plays netted five yards Bowers got off on his 88-yard dash, being conveyed by a flock of blockers after slicing through the left side of the line. Larry Snyder booted the point.

Central took to the air in marching 74 yards for its lone touchdown later in the third period. Following a 13-yard run by Carl Miller, Sam Landis fired passes to Miller and Jim Gerace for 19 and 13 yards, respectively. Miller got the final 14 yards on a dash around right end and Charley Brant booted the point.

BORTNER GOES OVER

Littlestown added its final score in the fourth period when Bowers got off on his 63-yard run to put

Zettle Tells Of Fertilizer Uses, Pond Stocking And Milk Production Increases

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

The proper use of fertilizer and lime is one of the best investments a farmer can make.

Fertilizer is a better buy today than it was in 1939. Fertilizer prices, in terms of plant food content, are less than two per cent higher than in 1939. Yet the prices farmers pay for other items have increased 146 per cent since 1939.

The modern farmer certainly has the same attitude as any other good businessman: He wants to make the best expenditure possible with available funds to obtain maximum profits.

COST RELATIONSHIPS

As cost relationships change, farmers tend to use more of the low-priced and less of the expensive items, insofar as possible. For example with high farm wages, more machinery is substituted for labor, and fertilizer may be substituted for land if increased production is desired at lower cost.

As higher rates of plant nutrients are used, it becomes more and more important that fertilizer be applied in the proper way for best utilization. Best and most reliable way to determine how to apply the right kind and proper amount of fertilizer for an individual crop on a given field is through soil tests.

FARM PONDS EXPLAINED

Fall is the time to make plans for stocking new farm ponds built during the past summer because pond owners have a decision to make on pond stocking. Most ponds have been stocked with bass and bluegills, but these ponds need a heavy harvest of bluegills to remain productive. Many pond owners have not had the time nor the interest for management or harvest of bass-bluegill ponds. Those that have usually experienced excellent results.

It is apparent that most pond owners and fishermen have a preference for bass fishing and little interest in bluegills. If this is the case for your pond, skip bluegills. Instead use a combination of bass and golden shiners which will provide bass fishing only. This combination is easier to manage and keep in balance than a bass-bluegill pond.

Applications for bass and bluegills from federal hatcheries must be submitted prior to February 1 to receive fish that same year. Applications are available at the County Agricultural Extension office in the courthouse. Golden shiners must be obtained from commercial bait dealers and bass to stock with them can be obtained on application. Private hatcheries also are a source of new pond stocks.

Milk production can often be increased as much as 1,200 pounds per cow when grain is fed heavier at freshening time. Contrary to current opinion, cattle health usually improves on such a feeding program.

Beginning about two weeks before expected calving, increase grain feeding one to two pounds daily until most cows are receiving 10 to 14 pounds per day at least seven days prior to freshening. Maintain this level of grain feeding for three days following calving. Then increase the amount of grain fed by two pounds daily so that most cows receive 16 to 20 pounds per head within seven to 10 days after freshening.

Do not reduce this level of grain intake until it is certain the cows have reached the peak of their lactation. If production levels require, more grain can usually be fed economically under most Pennsylvania conditions.

USED SUCCESSFULLY

This feeding schedule should be used regardless of present production. It has been used successfully on dairy demonstration farms throughout the state as well as by hundreds of dairymen using the Penn State Forage Testing Service. A fresh-cow feeding schedule is tailored to the condition of each herd using this unique service.

Most dairymen report no more, or less, under trouble when cows are fed grain more heavily. In many instances better conception results when cows are bred and fewer cases of ketosis or actonemia occur.

Frank Howard Is Caddie For Dressen

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Slugger Frank Howard of the Los Angeles Dodgers is well known to Milwaukee Manager Charlie Dressen. In the spring of 1958, Howard caddied when Dressen, then a Dodger coach, played golf. "He'd handle that golf bag like it was a tooth pick," says Dressen. "You couldn't find a nicer kid anywhere."

Howard recently hit a grand slam home run off Brave pitcher Bob Buhl on a 3-1 pitch. It beat Dressen's team 6-4.

Singer Tony Martin To Try Broadway

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Tony Martin hungers for one taste of show business success he's never had: Broadway.

"The one thing I want to do is experience the thrill of an opening night on the New York stage," says the veteran of Hollywood and night clubs. "That will be it."

And Tony thinks a little more hard work will get him there. "Eddie Cantor once said to me, 'It isn't how well you entertain, it's whether you have stamina and drive,'" Martin says.

The Giants have finished second 13 times in the National League baseball race since 1900.

To Ask Drafting Of 500 Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department will ask the drafting of up to 500 doctors during the next fiscal year, the Army Navy Air Force Journal predicted today.

The doctor draft has not been used since February, 1957, the unofficial but authoritative service publication said, and during this time not enough interns and resident physicians have been volunteering to meet requirements.

A decision of the exact size of the doctor draft quota will be made after next March 1. There are no present plans to draft dentists, the Journal says.

East Berlin

MRS. JACK MILLER
EAST BERLIN — The Young Married People's Class of Trinity Lutheran Church will hold a bake sale October 22, 9 a.m. at Lerew's Firestone Store.

A White Cross demonstration will be held at the November monthly meeting of the East Berlin Firemen Auxiliary, it was announced. The public is invited to attend the demonstration which includes clothing, furniture and toys. Other business of the Monday meeting was a public beef: the acceptance of two new members, Helen Seaman and Mildred Chronister; and the door prize was won by Ruth Lusk. The meeting was a Halloween party with approximately one half the members costumed; those not were fined 50 cents. Prizes were Zeigler; ugliest, Ruth Lusk and Sandy Bechtel; funniest, Ruth Krout; last guessed, Ethel Shaffer. Gary Markley showed slides of the fireman's parade and the fires in the area.

The following officers were elected Sunday at the Luther League of Trinity Lutheran Church: President, Jean Brodbeck; vice president, Jeffrey Byers; assistant secretary, Robert Cashman; treasurer, Robert Rohrbach.

Pastor Stoudt baptized four infants Sunday. Tracey Lou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Snyder R. 2; Keith Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brodbeck, Locust St.; Lisa DiAnn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Edris, Thomasville; and Sherry Lou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wolf, R. 1.

Mrs. Evelyn Emig and Mrs. Lois Eisenhart of Eve's Beauty Salon on Monday attended the Emerson Beauty Supply Trade Show, which had a two-day stand in the Yorktown Hotel, York. Opening of the show Sunday noon included 21 different exhibitors, guest artists, lecturers, and educators with reference to new hair styles and the numerous products. Prizes were also awarded.

Fifteen members were received into the Paradise Evangelical Lutheran Church congregation recently: Mr. and Mrs. Donald English, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stambaugh, Gary Stambaugh, Kenneth Stambaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Foster J. Kimball Jr., Mrs. Richard Walton, Burnell Leopold, Rowlen Lee Huffman Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Moyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Martin. The annual home-coming service will be held Sunday, October 16, at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Dr. Alan S. Meek, of the Lancaster Theological Seminary, will be the guest speaker. Members past and present are invited to attend. Altar flowers Sunday were presented in memory of George Shaberly by his wife and children.

A panel discussion will be conducted Sunday evening at 6:30 by the Luther League. Title for discussion will be "Can My League Count on ME?"

Rev. Howells and members of the church council attended the York Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod Monday at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, York.

Final camping plans are being completed for the combined camping trip of the New Oxford and East Berlin Boy Scouts this weekend. The camping site will be Camp Conewago.

The UCLW of Trinity Lutheran Church met Tuesday with about 25 members present. President Mrs. Glenn Cashman asked for nominees for the upcoming election. Two films were shown, "African Rhythms" and "Diamond King of Gems." Hostesses were Mrs. Hazel Hoffman and Mrs. Sally Hoffman.

The East Berlin Fire Co. was called out at 9 a.m. Wednesday to extinguish a chicken house fire at the home of George Binder, Locust St.

TO CREATE interest with the public and thereby attract large, curious crowds, Communists Lima and Proctor caused to be organized the CCPAF (Citizens Committee to Preserve American Freedom) and other publicity creating false fronts.

Mr. Hoover reports that from last May 6 until the hearings began the 12th, officials of the party

WITH THEIR new youth movement a year old, the CPUSA leadership decided to experiment with it in planned mob techniques in San Francisco against a scheduled public hearing by a Committee of Congress investigating Communists coastal activities. Douglas Wachter, an 18-year-old sophomore, University of California, who had attended the National Convention of the CPUSA in New York last December, was one who received a subpoena from the committee. The Red leadership decided to build its student appeal around Wachter. He began a sympathy pitch for students to demonstrate for him. From San Francisco State College, the son of the current member of Sonoma County Communist Party promised support from his college. A Red contact did likewise from Santa Rosa Junior College, But Mickey Lima and Roscoe Proctor, seasoned, veteran Communists who far out-ranked puppet Wachter, and planted agitators called all signals.

Let's Look At The Record

CHAOS FOR STUDENTS
Red Successes With Foreign Students
Lead To New Efforts On U.S. Campuses

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

THE ANTICS OF Nikita Khrushchev in the U.N. are good Marxian doctrine. Communism's greatest opportunity is found in confusion.

Where no chaos exists, it is Marxian doctrine to create it by artificial means. That is exactly what Nikita has been doing at the highest level in New York. At no level, however, have the Communists worked with smoother cunning than on the college campuses. Their recent successes in Japan, Uruguay and Cuba have been phenomenal.

THE MANIFOLD, changing, false-front student organizations with which the Reds haunted American campuses through the emotional era just prior to World War II are of public record.

For effort expended, it is amazing the Communists did not then meet with greater success. Their failures were largely due to the inquisitive astuteness of the American students themselves.

One case is illustrative. The conventional organizer showed up on a campus, sponsored by a local, well intentioned, do-good, unwitting fellow traveler. Purpose: The organization of a campus chapter of the League Against War and Fascism, the Communist origin of which was then unpublished.

But in this instance an astute student leader challenged the entire deal: "With times as tough as they are," he said in effect, "why should we students pay dues, over half of which go to the 'Central Office'? For such a good cause, the 'Central Office' should be supplementing campus dues!" "And why stop with Fascism?" the student further argued. "Let us ask that our local charter read 'The League Against War, Fascism and Communism.'" The organizer quickly vanished.

IT IS NOW NOTED with regret that, according to J. Edgar Hoover's most recent report, the U.S.A. branch of the Communist Party made suckers of 62 glibly students in the San Francisco Bay area.

Percentagewise, the number is negligible. An understanding judge dismissed the riot charges. Nevertheless, the CPUSA techniques in this latest campus effort are of interest.

TWENTY YOUNG Communists from New York, Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles were brought to New York May 30-31, 1959, to confer with the party's top echelon toward a program to attract teen-agers, students and working youth. Two of the most promising young Reds, Mortimer D. Rubin and Danny Queen, were elevated to membership in the party's national committee.

Rubin, the project boss, is currently promoting a youth organization under the euphonious name of "Advance." He and his organizers are also pushing the publication of a magazine with youth appeal, "New Horizons." Communist connections are concealed.

Use Waves To Tell How Good Steak Is

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — A professor of agriculture says he has developed a way to hear how good a steak is while it is still on the hoof.

Prof. J. R. Stouffer of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University bounces high frequency sound waves off the layers of fat and muscle on live animals.

This device, he says, will help livestock producers select steers, hogs and sheep for breeding.

Although subject to last minute revisions, the year's total has been estimated as 63.6 billion pieces of mail which includes about one billion pieces of parcel post. It was stated that this would mean an increase of nearly 25 per cent over the corresponding figures for 1953 when the annual volume was 50.9 billion pieces.

During this same period, it was pointed out, the revenue of the department also has shown an impressive gain with an increase from $2,091,714,000 in fiscal year 1953 to $3,276,800,000 for fiscal year 1960.

Here in Gettysburg, receipts of the post office climbed from $120,200 in 1953 to $198,600 last year.

ARE MAKING PROGRESS
"There is not much we can do about how much mail we have to handle from day to day or how many people are making use of the Postal Service," Postmaster Appler said, "but the whole department keeps busy in devising ways and means for doing the job not only more efficiently but more economically. As I recall it, that was the way President Eisenhower outlined the principal objectives of the department when Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield was being sworn in back in 1953, and that's the way

Continuing the article, "Tips to the parent on how to help your child become a successful student," it is important to discuss three additional areas of instruction—reading, spelling and handwriting.

Reading—In order to capture the youngster's enthusiasm for reading, it is essential that both parents provide the student with understanding and encouragement as to the importance of the reading skills. This involves providing a wide variety of the best books in literature and books that supplement the various interests of the student. There is a definite correlation between a good reader and a youngster's success with the verbal skills. Reading and understanding what we read is essential to the attainment of knowledge.

Handwriting — It is a proud son or daughter who presents you with a sample of his first official handwriting.

In the first two grades your child will concentrate on "manuscript" writing which consists mainly of circles (o's) and straight lines (l's). In the third grade comes "cursive" writing.

During the first years, the teacher concentrates on improving shape, size, spacing and slant. Speed comes later. The parent can help the child improve his handwriting by—

1. Impressing upon him that any type of writing should be neat and legible.

2. Give him an opportunity to use writing at home—thank you notes, letters, addressing his own greeting cards.

3. Encourage him to write research articles on subjects of interest.

4. Suggest an outline plan for him to follow in recording observations of experiments such as, purpose of experiment, procedure, things observed and conclusion. This record should be neat, carefully written and accurate.

5. Surrounding him with good books, and on birthdays and Christmas including a book in his gifts.

6. Do not compare his reading with that of another child either in your family, or someone else's family. Each has his own time table for learning to walk, talk, read and write.

7. His school attendance should be as regular as possible—every time he is absent from school, he loses ground, particularly in the first and second grades where foundations for reading are laid.

8. Avoid haggling over comic books—try to show him the difference between comic books and good books—if adventure stories are what he seeks—good books beat comics any day.

9. Introduce him to the treasures on public library shelves. He should be given his own library card when he is able to sign his name.

United States Mail Volume Reaches New All-time High

A new all-time high in the nation's mail volume was reached during fiscal year 1960 ending June 30, which continued the steady upward trend of the past seven years at a rate which even exceeds the population growth, according to advance information from the Annual Report of the Post Office Department which has been made available to Postmaster Jacob G. Appler.

Although subject to last minute revisions, the year's total has been estimated as 63.6 billion pieces of mail which includes about one billion pieces of parcel post. It was stated that this would mean an increase of nearly 25 per cent over the corresponding figures for 1953 when the annual volume was 50.9 billion pieces.

The Andy Griffith Television Show

By I. SILDEN

There are almost as many schools of thought on comedy as there are schools of thought. Some people entertain a man is only as funny as his writers. Others think comics are born funny from the first goo in the cradle, and get more hilarious as they learn new words.

Andy Griffith could well fall into the latter category. There is no official word from his mother, still living in Griffith's native Mount Airy, N. C., as to whether her son convulsed his classmates with "A funny thing happened to me on the way to nursery school this morning" — but the fact remains that Andy is every bit as amusing in everyday situations as he is on his new CBS television series seen every Monday night,

Andy Griffith And Ronny Howard On The "Andy Griffith Show"

9:30-10 NYT.

Though there will be no screen credit on the new television series reading "added dialogue by Andy Griffith," he is responsible for many of the hilarious retorts in the comedy scripts. His acute sense of humor comes to the fore in story conferences where he tosses off funny lines as rapidly as a tennis player bats the ball across the net.

HAS SERIOUS SIDE

But as is usual with most comedians, Andy has his serious side, too. No one has ever called him a frustrated director, because he isn't. Frustrated, that is. On one of the first shows, called "Runaway Kid," Andy worked as painstakingly as director Don Weis in coaching Ronny Howard, who plays his 6-year-old son, "Opie," and little Pat Rosson playing the runaway boy.

"These little kids can't read, y'see," he explained. "And their folks read them the lines. I just think it's marvelous that they remember as well as they do. I know I couldn't, when I was their age. So I help 'em along a bit. Sorta move my lips when the camera isn't on me, to give 'em a cue. It saves time in retakes."

As for learning his own lines, Andy doesn't try for exact memorization of the scripts.

"CALL US SURGEONS"

"By the time we actually start shooting, we've read and re-read, times, too. So we all know the lines fairly well. It works like this: We film on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. On Thursday we read the script for a week from the next Monday. The Thursday before, we've done the script for the next Monday. Still with me? Well, on that Thursday I'm talking about, it's a cold reading."

"And then, well I guess you could call us surgeons. We cut up the script. Figure out which lines are funny . . . odd thing. A script can read just hilariously. But when you go to play it, it falls down like a tired puppy. And that's when we start to rewrite and cut and revise. And by the time we've gone over it so many times, we pretty well know it. So when we get to work on that particular show ten days later, there isn't much memorizing to be done. We have the feel of the story," Andy continued.

MOST ARE VETERANS

It's fortunate too that everyone connected with the series (aside from little Ronny Howard, of course) has a long background in show business.

Don Knotts, Andy's old buddy from "No Time for Sergeants," worked on the Steve Allen show for a long while. Frances Bavier, who plays his housekeeper, "Aunt Bee," is a veteran actress of the theater, motion pictures and countless TV shows including a written and re-written a few series six years ago titled "It's A Great Life." And Elinor Donahue, who will be Andy's "implied romantic interest," as the writers put it, is fresh off six years as the eldest daughter on "Father Knows Best."

Hence, they're all "pros" at learning lines and playing comedy. In the case of the small boy, his father, Rance Howard, is a stage director and actor, too, so he not only teaches the youngster his portions of each script, but also works with the director to find out the types of reactions he wants from the child, and then coaches him along those lines.

"It's a happy company we've got," says Andy. "No one ever yells at anyone. I can't stand that. Loud voices just irritate me. You'll never get anything out of me by yelling. Or pushing. We just talk things over quiet-like, and get a lot more done. Saves wear and tear on the nerves, too."

Don't get the idea that Andy Griffith is a nervous man. Nothing could be further from the truth. He's one of those lucky ones, so relaxed he eats his lunch in 15 minutes, then naps in his dressing room for the remaining 45. Awakens in a second when he's called back to the stage and is completely alert.

"It's my metabolism," he says. "I just have to get a lot of sleep, or I'm not good for a thing. Not a darned thing. During the week when we're working, I'm in bed and sleep by 10 or 10:30 at the latest. And on weekends, well if Barbara, my wife, and I are up until midnight, talking or watching TV — it's a big thing!"

"Am I funny at home? Well, my kids think I'm sensational. Sam, he's 2½ and Dixie Nann is 10 months old, but I reckon they're a little too young and a little too prejudiced to take their words as gospel. Sam figures if I let him crawl all over me, I'm the best old man in the world. And if I jiggle Dixie on my knee, well she laughs, too. Can't prove a thing by them," Andy chuckles.
